

Getting Organized: Creating an Equestrian Trails Organization begins with the knowledge that land and equestrian trails must be preserved. This 35-page manual provides step-by-step ideas for working through an existing group, or if necessary, creating a new organization. It explains how to gather people and resources, create goals and by-laws, prepare and hold an initial meeting, and establish regular meeting formats. Appendices with sample forms and additional resources/reading list are included for more detailed information.

Getting Organized is the second in a series of guidebooks being developed to expand information on how people can be advocates for land preservation for equestrian use. The manual is produced by the Equestrian Land Conservation Resource in cooperation with the National Park Service's Rivers, Trails, and Conservation Assistance Program.

CHAPTER 1: INTRODUCTION

The Challenge

Power in Numbers

Advocacy vs. Existing Organization

CHAPTER 2: HOW TO BEGIN

The Vision

Stakeholders

Core or Steering Committee

Information Gathering

CHAPTER 3: THE WORK BEGINS

Organizational Meetings

The Purpose of the Group

Areas of Concentration

Possible Solutions

Resources Available and Still Needed

Evaluate and Adjust Actions

CHAPTER 4: PREPARING FOR ACTION

The Mission Statement

Goals and Objectives

Action Plans to Implement Objectives

Evaluating and Plans for the Future

By-laws

CHAPTER 5: INITIAL PUBLIC MEETING

Setting the Date

Publicity

Meeting Details

Handouts

The Meeting

Regular Meeting Format

CHAPTER 6: ORGANIZING FOR THE FUTURE

CHAPTER 7: MOVING FORWARD

APPENDICES:

Database Information

Basic Bylaw Guidelines

Press Release Information

Sample Registration Sheet

Membership Application Sample

Sample Agenda

Resources and Reading List