

Standard Recreational Use provisions A

- no duty of care to keep premises safe for use
- no duty to warn of hazardous conditions
- granting permission to use does not constitute any assurance that the premises are safe, does not extend duty to that owed to an invitee, owner is not liable for injury to person or property caused by users EXCEPT:
 - willful or malicious failure to guard or warn of dangerous condition
 - where a fee has been paid for the use
 - injury by a user to anyone to whom the owner owes a higher duty of care